Aaron F. Leach, PLS, Named Surveyor of the Year

Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, February 12, 2018 – The South Carolina Society of Professional Land Surveyors named ROWE Professional Services Company Project Surveyor Aaron F. Leach, PLS, its Surveyor of the Year. Leach was recognized by the non-profit organization of approximately 300 members due to his commitment to promoting the industry and his outreach to the next generation of surveyors.

His volunteerism includes speaking at local schools as part of the Trig*Star program, which is a high school initiative that promotes the study of trigonometry and builds awareness of the surveying profession among mathematically-skilled high school students, career guidance counselors, and math teachers. He also works with the Girl Scouts to earn their Tree Badge.

Leach joined ROWE in 2007 with 14 years of land surveying experience and became an associate in 2014, which is a company shareholder who participates in the firm's long-range goal development and delivery to improve the quality of services provided to clients. He earned an A.S. in land surveying from Paul Smith's College and is a licensed professional land surveyor in South Carolina, North Carolina, and New York. Leach is a Myrtle Beach, SC resident.

ROWE is a full-service professional firm specializing in civil engineering, surveying, aerial photography/mapping, landscape architecture, and planning. In addition to its Myrtle Beach office, ROWE has offices in Flint, Lapeer, Mount Pleasant, Farmington Hills, Grayling, Lansing, and the tri-cities area of Michigan.
